VERMONT BEHIND POWERFUL ELEVEN

Six Veterans in Saturday's Line-Up Against Middlebury

4 COACHES TRAINING TEAM

Sullivan Second String Quarter, Burke's Probable Selection

(By the Vermont Cynic)

Burlington, Vt., Nov. 9—But one more game of the 1920 football season remains to be played, that with Middlebury. As the season draws to a close, those men who have made the present season a successful one by defeating St. Lawrence and wiping out past defeats at the hands of Tufts and New Hampshire State receive the thanks of every Vermonter.

The heart and soul of every team is its coach, and the soul of the Vermont team is Coach Burke. He is responsible to a great extent for the hard fighting and clean playing which have been so noticeable on the gridiron this year. Twice captain of the Vermont 'Varsity, he has the true Vermont spirit, and this he has instilled into his men.

Coach Lewellyn, who was, in his college days, a famous Dartmouth quarterback, and who was picked for the all-American team, has been of great assistance in rounding the team into shape, as have Coach Farnum, who captained Brown in 1915-16 and Coach Moriarty of Georgetown, an All American tackle.

The men themselves are the ones who have stood the knocks and the grind of a hard season. Captain Schmitt, whose work on the 'Varsity last year won him the Captaincy, with six feet four of bone and muscle always means a hard struggle for the opposing guard. Margolski, of Revere, Mass., who is usually seen in the other guard position, is another veteran of last year's team.

"Bart" Garrity, guard also from Massachusetts, Brookline, is another veteran of last year's team. McMahon, who has been holding down the center position most of the time, comes from Revere, Mass., though he received his football training at Goddard, where he played center last year.

Purcell and Nowland are two more members of last year's 'Varsity who have continued to make good. Both are tackles and help materially in making up a strong line. Ratti, Burrowes, and Kuzmich, who have also represented Vermont at tackle this year, are all new men. Ratti came to Vermont from Proctor, where he played on the Proctor High School team. Burrowes claims Vergennes as his home town, although he played on the Hebron Academy team in Maine two years ago. Kuzmich is a product of Claremont (N. H.) High School and has shown good stuff all through the season.

On the right end of the line, Granger has been doing things all the year. Last year he was one of Vermont's fastest track men and his speed has stood him in good stead this year. Although he started out at quarter he was soon shifted to end and has made good. Thompson, the other contestant for the right end berth, comes from Brookline, Mass., where he played on the Brookline High School team. Last year he played end for Goddard Seminary.

On the other end of the line, Semansky is the most dependable performer.

DRAKE AND FISHER SPEAKERS AT RALLY

Other Arrangements for Friday's Gathering Near Completion

ATTENDANCE WILL BE LARGE

Four-Course Dinner to be Served; Axton Unable to Attend

Announcement of the formal acceptance by George R. "Dud" Drake '02 and "Pick" Fisher '11 of Chairman L. B. Law's invitation to speak at the First Rally-Banquet Friday evening in McCullough Gymnasium was made early this week and guarantees the presence of two of Middlebury's foremost contributions to the field of sports. Within the undergraduate body the coming of Drake is generally taken to augur well for a Blue victory on Saturday for much of the 20-14 score which Middlebury rolled up against Vermont a year ago is attributed to his rapid-fire methods of coaching during the week preceding. It is not yet known whether the former Middlebury star and All-American end with the University of Pennsylvania will return early enough to be of service in coaching before the day of the game.

The other speakers on the evening's program will include P. M. Meldon '80, Postmaster of Rutland, Judge Homer S. Skeels '98, of Ludlow, and President John M. Thomas '90, toastmaster; Chaplain John T. Axton, of Washington, D. C., having wired the committee last week of his inability to be present as was previously announced. The management is anticipating nearly 175 guests at the initial observance of the Rally-Banquet, the pledged attendance already having passed the 130 mark. The sale of tickets among undergraduates had totalled nearly one hundred by Monday evening and this number is expected to be materially increased before the resident sale closes tomorrow night.

The banquet will commence promptly at seven o'clock Friday evening when the serving of the four-course dinner under the supervision of Mrs. Maude O. Mason, director of the Hepburn dining hall, will begin. The following menu will be observed:

Grape Fruit with Cherries
Roast Vermont Turkey with Dressing
Cranberry Sauce
Mashed Potatoes Baked Squash
Olives Watermelon Pickles
Banana and Pineapple Salad
Ice Cream Lady Fingers
Washington Pie
Coffee

Ticket Sale For Hop This Week

Tickets for the Sophomore Hop, the first of the formal class dances of the college year which is to occur Thanksgiving Eve, November 24, in McCullough Gymnasium, will be placed on sale the latter part of the week. Sale will commence with members of the senior class and will progress in order of seniority, the limit which has been fixed being seventy-five. Music will be furnished by the Williams College Orchestra of seven pieces, four of which played at the Delta Delta Delta Sorority dance last spring.

Soistman to Manager Yearling Five

Theodore L. Soistman was elected manager of the freshman basketball team at a meeting of the 1924 class Friday in Hemicycle. Gray and garnet, the previous selection of the class for its colors were changed to red and black .

TAU KAPPA ALPHA INSTALLED HERE

Debating Fraternity Elects Seven Undergraduates and Alumni To Membership

Middlebury chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, a national honorary debating fraternity, was installed at Middlebury College Saturday morning in Hepburn Hall, by A. N. Woodhead, Secretary-treasurer of the St. Lawrence chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, and editor of the Hills News of St. Lawrence University.

Tau Kappa Alpha was founded at Indianapolis, Indiana, primarily through the efforts of Hugh T. Miller, Oswald Ryan, Charis Adams, and Roger W. Wallace, men of prominence in national affairs of the country. The purpose of the fraternity is to develop interest in speaking and debating. The fraternity now has forty-six chapters, Middlebury being the forty-fifth chapter to be installed. Other chapters are located in Butler College, Harvard, DePauw, Miami University, Vanderbilt University, Columbia University, University of Montana, University of Oregon, University of Arkansas, Colorado College, Lafayette College, Pennsylvania College, Purdue University, University of Vermont and the University of St. Lawrence. Men who have taken part in at least one intercollegiate debate are eligible for election to membership.

The initiation ceremonies were private. The men taken into active membership at Middlebury were: James H. Noble, '21, Andrew C. Osteyee, '21, Murray Adams, '23, and Henry H. Eddy, '23. Three members of the class of 1920 were admitted to membership in absentia. Walbridge B. Fullington, who is now teaching school at the Bordentown Military Academy at Bordentown, N. J., Samuel T. Ginsburg, who is attending Law school at North Western University at Cleveland Ohio, and Ralph E. Sincerbox, who is work-

MIDDLEBURY FALLS TO ST. LAWRENCE

Superior Playing of Visitors Wins Pre-Final Contest 10-0

SHEARD IS INDIVIDUAL STAR

Middlebury Fails in Each of Three Chances to Score

While Norwich was walking off with the State Championship by defeating U. V. M. at Burlington Saturday, St. Lawrence University took Middlebury's measure here on Porter Field by a 10-0 score in a clean cut victory due in a large measure to the wonderful all around game put up by their half back Sheard. His wide end runs which resulted in long gains time after time were executed with such speed and clever open field running that it showed up the tackling defects of the Middlebury defense in no uncertain manner. The all around kicking skill of this same back accounted for the even exchange of punts with Ashley, and his placement kick in the second quarter gave the rival eleven their first points of the battle. A long forward pass from Sheard to Atwood in the third period netted a touchdown which was followed by a successful try for a goal from the touchdown.

Three Chances to Score

Middlebury had three chances to score during the game. Near the end of the first quarter a place kick was tried from the thirty year line but a low pass resulted in a fumble by Quackenbush and the attempt was a failure. In the second period an attempt at a drop kick was made from the forty-yard line which had the distance but went just wide of the uprights. In the second half a fake placement kick on which Ashley carried the ball, netted fifteen yards and brought the leather to the twelve yard mark. An intercepted pass gave St. Lawrence the ball and they immediately punted out of danger. On the other hand, St. Lawrence failed in two other attempts at placement kicks and would have been credited with another touchdown if one of their men had not happened to be offside on the play when it was started almost in mid-field.

Although the defeat was another surprise and disappointment both to the squad and the College, some allowance must be made for the fact that at no time during the game was the entire Blue first string team on the field as the condition of some of the injured men made this necessary. There is also another factor which caused costly delay and hesitation at times and that appeared to be a lack of unity among the players. It is safe to say that the U. V. M. game Saturday will see this defect corrected.

The Game

1st Quarter: St. Lawrence kicked off to Drost on the 20 yard line and he ran the ball back 15 yards. Ashley gained a yard and then punted. Sheard made 25 yard run around right end. Two attmpts at the Midd line gave small gains and after an incomplete pass, St. Lawrence punted. Ashley returned the kick, the ball going out of bounds on the Midd 35 yard line. St. Lawrence was offside on the first play and then Mead threw Sheard for a loss. A long forward pass was incomplete and this was followed by the visitors' first try at a placement kick, which resulted in a failure. St. Lawrence was offside on the next play and

To Keep Her Laurels Green

Whether in football, baseball, basketball or track no athletic encounter in this state can ever take the place of the seasonal meetings of Middlebury and Vermont. Whether it be Middlebury or Vermont unbeaten or smarting under recent defeat, whether battle-torn and weak or in the prime of fighting trim the engagement involving two century old rivals, founded upon the traditions of generations, is one of moment. It is a real fight.

The two elevens which are to face each other on Porter Field Saturday have been weakened in previous encounters. Both have met with severe reverses. To endure the hour's grilling will tax the last ounce of physical reserve in each of the twenty-two men. Yet not one of these twenty-two men will hesitate to call forth that final effort. The spectacale will be one of highest devotion and loyalty to a two-fold tradition—to those of the college for one hundred years and to free competition, good sportsmanship. As such it should be respected.

Football is a hard game. It calls for a large amount of individual prowess coupled with a constant need for team play. Unfortunately it entails a strong element of personal combat which presents many chances for players to commit sporting indiscretions. It is therefore the double duty of players to exert every effort to preserve their self-control not only to further the best interests of the team but for the sake of the game.

The game will give rise to high feeling on both sides of the field. The stands cannot accommodate the fifteen hundred yelling, cheering and singing enthusiasts who will line the gridiron. But that does not offer an excuse for any disorder. The contest will attract more than the ordinary number of outsiders, followers of the game who pay allegiance to neither of the two colleges represented on the field. For this reason alone there will be no room on Porter Field for any member of the undergraduate body who is wont to razz a member of the opposing team, an official or who would stoop to any other transgression of sport etiquette.

Middlebury is Vermont's host Saturday. Far higher and more worthy than any wish that she emerge victorious from the afternoon's classic is her obligation to maintain that standard of dignity and of mutual respect which has characterized her meetings with an honored rival in the past. The engagement constitutes a real test for player and spectator alike. Forbid that any stain may mar her ideal, "To Keep Her Laurels Green".

Service

In pursuance of a policy of greatest service to the college public The Campus has incorporated into its columns as a weekly feature a calendar of events scheduled for the seven days succeeding its regular date of issuance. This supplement to the weekly news review is aimed to give readers a reliable means for locating the happenings scheduled for the immediate future and to aid them in planning their campus engagements. It is further hoped that this addition will help towards obviating the ordinary run of conflicting appointments made each day in Chapel. This can be accomplished only through the cooperation of the college body. Persons of responsibility in campus affairs can place their announcements before the undergraduates. It will help us to become mutually well informed.

Middlebury College with its rapidly increasing enrollment is more than ever an institution of many and widely divergent activities. The occasion is not one for the continuation of old, inefficient and slip shod methods of handling announcements. The fine print atop the farthest column on this page is for your benefit. Read it. Contribute to it. Help us to help you.

He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity and the Savage and Pilgrims' Clubs, of London and the Pekin (China) Club.

The Periscope

Only one game remains on the football schedule but that is a big one and we are just itching for one more chance to ring the Old Chapel bell.

News Item

—In the game Saturday between Middlebury and Pittsford High Schools, Eddie Kalin, '23, who refereed, played a star game for Pittsford but was unable to prevent the local team from winning by a large score.

Viewing the Hat Scrap from the side lines makes us appreciate more than ever that it is a "grand and glorious feeling" to be an upper classman.

The Hat Scrap may be rough and hard on those who partake, but did you ever stop to consider the hat?

We note that the Invitation Committee for Junior Week consists of Hugo J. Ratti, Chairman, assisted by George T. Lewis and George A. Cowles. There can be no question but that the Business Staff of The Campus is pulling well together—100 per cent cooperaton.

We blush modestly as we print the following communication.

Dear Periscope:

Realizing the extent and scope of your influence, I am writing you to ask if you can persuade the proper authorities to buy me another broom. The one I have been using for some time has become well-worn and has parted amidships. Thanking you in advance,

Mrs. Pearson-Hall

Middlebury, Vt.,
Nov. 9, 1920.

We wish to discredit reports of dissention at the last meeting of The Campus board. We don't know where Adams got his black eye but we can swear that he did not get it there.

The once popular song, "Take Your Girlie to the Movies", has now become a trifle passe and might well be supplanted by a lyrical ditty entitled, "Meet Your Girlie in the Library."

Local merchants and college characters are looking forward with interest, and a certain degree of skepticism, to the coming Freshman P-rade.

The assignments for Shakespeare thesis are deserving of notice. Among others we find that Lee '20 has been given, "A Midsummer Night's Dream"; Osteyee '21, "The Merry Wives of Windsor"; Sanford '21, "The Tempest"; Rothermel '21, "Comedy of Errors"; and Wright '22, "Much Ado About Nothing." We find ourself wondering what the assignment would be for So-and-so if he took Shakespeare.

The Periscope feels constrained to correct the altogether erroneous impression which unfortunately has become prevalent in some quarters that the initials "w. k." as applied to our Ed. are an abbreviation for "weak kneed".

CORRECTION

To the Editor of The Campus:

In printing the little communication which I sent you last week regarding the solar eclipse of November 10th, an important portion was unfortunately omitted. The copy read as follows:—"The coming eclipse will contain no features of particular interest. It will begin for us at 8:58 o'clock. The middle of the eclipse will occur about 10:15 o'clock. At this time the edge of the moon will reach not quite to the center of the disc of the sun."

This correction will come too late to be of service to your readers, but it will serve to show that the omission was a printer's error, and not due to ignorance on my part.

The football State Championnship for the 1920 season has already fallen to Norwich, and the casual observer might be led to believe that the final scene had been enacted in this season's football history for Vermont State. But there is another step to be taken before the curtain finally falls, and that is the settlement of the well known and eagerly awaited battle between the Green and Gold eleven from Burlington and the Blue and White representatives from Middlebury.

Middlebury exhibited a strength early in the season which caused U. V. M. stock to take a decided slump, but the St. Lawrence and Norwich defeats have caused the hopes of the Burlington fans to rise somewhat. Their hopes are based more upon the comparative scores of the St. Lawrence-Middlebury and the St. Lawrence-Vermont games rather than upon the Middlebury-Norwich and U. V. M.-Norwich contests. However, Middlebury will not be playing St. Lawrence this Saturday but U. V. M.; and a spirit and fight will be shown in that game which will out shine any exhidition played to date by the Blue.

U. V. M. has been fortunate in matters of injury up to this time but the game Saturday rather battered them along that line. Middlebury, though some injuries still persist, promises to be in better shape than they were the day they met Norwich, or, in fact since the Army game.

The record of Middlebury-U. V. M. football games since athletic relations were resumed in 1914, shows not a single defeat for Middlebury, will add just so much more fight to every member of the Middlebury eleven and make this year to pass with the slate as clean as the teams of "Casey" Jones, "Flash" Condit, "Ted" Lang, "Bill" Canty and "Stew" Ross have left it.

Both teams have powerful fullbacks with perhaps Gollnick having the edge on Johnson in the defensive work at least. Bellerose of Vermont has the balance in his favor very slightly when it comes to puntning but Ashley is the better open full runner. The quarterback question remains about even as neither team has a star of the first order now that Skelton of Vermont is out of the game. Brown and Brigham are the best pair of ends although the Vermont left end is probably the best individual player of the two sets of rival wing guardians. Vermont is noticeably weak in the center of the line and with Monyahan flanked by the guards Keppler and Kalin the latter two should have things pretty much their own way. Capt. Mead and Potratz of Middlebury are both veteran tackles and can be relied on to do their share of work and more too in smashing the rival line Saturday.

MEN'S RALLY PRECEDES GAME WITH ST. LAWRENCE

Collins '89 Among List of Speakers—Davis Leads Cheers

Slightly more than one hundred men attended the Friday night rally preceding the Middlebury-St. Lawrence game last week in McCullough Gymnasium. Short addresses were made by Coach Arthur M. Brown, Dean L. I. Bonney, Professor V. C. Harrington and Robert M. Collins '89, Head of the London bureau of the Associated Press.

Each of the speeches dwelt on the need for college support of football as a means of furthering the best interests of the College. In his address Mr. Collins recalled the days when he was an undergraduate, saying that at that time the number of men in college was hardly sufficient to comprise a football team which could compete favorably with other similar institutions and as a consequence baseball and track constituted the two major sports. He lauded the work of the 'Varsity in the recent game with Stevens it being the first gridiron performance of representatives of his Alma Mater that he had witnessed.

Cheers for the speakers and members of the team were led by Davis '21 and the gathering joined in the singing of college favorites ending with "Alma Mater".

P-RADE OFFERS DISPLAY OF FRESHMAN TALENTS

Immediately preceding the big game Saturday the freshmen will be given ample opportunity to display their dramatic, tragic, comic, or what you will talents in lieu of that great flash of warlike ability so clearly demonstrated last week. To give the incoming class an unrestrained rounding off the lordly sophomores have arranged to stage the annual P-rade which will extend over a considerable period of time as well as most of the important village thoroughfares, coming to a climax at Porter Field.

Fancy dress milliners, sign painters, carpenters, exterior decorators, gunsmiths, dealers in antiques, and originators and promoters of modern light comic opera will be in fervent demand if the performance rendered by the class of '23 is to be duplicated, and something entirely original and unique must be devised to persuade the judges that the oncoming demonstration has the edge on that of last year.

FRESHMEN WIN HAT SCRAP—ONE CASUALTY RESULTS

Shelvey Knocked Out in Fray—Final Count 9-4

Freshmen were victors by a score of 9-4 in the annual Hat Scrap between the two lower classes in college, Saturday afternoon on Porter Field between the halves of the Middlebury-St. Lawrence game. Shelvey '23, a member of the Sophomore Rules Committee, the first to reach the hat, was rendered unconscious for several minutes following the tussle. The triumph of the entering class over the sophomore in the first of the traditional contests gives the first-year men one of the necessary three points, the others to be decided in football, basketball and rope-pull, which determine whether or not the Pea-Green will be discarded Junior Week.

Participants in Saturday's contest totalled nearly one hundred and fifty, the event attracting a large number of spectators from the town and from the stands who surged upon the field. At the end of the three-minute period nine hands were credited to 1924 represenntatives while the most that their opponents could garner was four. These were divided among the following: 1923—Shelvey, D. Ross, Roscoe and Margeson; 1924—Coolidge, Emory, Ferry, Hunter, Savage, Vose, Wexler and Witham.

TWELVE MEN TAKE THRIFT HINT FROM DEAN BONNEY

A dozen men have availed themselves of an opportunity to earn money during spare time by weaving cane chair-backs and seats for the Norwood-Calef Co., of Keene, N. H., through an arrangement concluded by the Dean of Men. All necessary materials including the wooden frames and straw binding are furnished by the New Hampshire concern and instruction is being given by R. T. Calef '24. The highest individual earnings for the week ending Saturday amounted to four dollars.

Women's Club Entertains

The ladies of the First Vermont district of the State Federation of Women's clubs and the executive board of the state Federation were guests of the Middlebury Women's club over Thursday and Friday and were entertained at tea in Hepburn Commons Thursday afternoon.

FIFTY DOLLARS MORE FOR BASKETBALL

Undergraduate Fund Now Totals Three Hundred and Fifty Dollars

Contracts for Home Games Signed This Week—Tickets Out

Payment of additional pledges for the 1920-21 basketball season this week amounted to slightly more than fifty dollars and swelled the total fund to $350. Of the $340 subscribed by members of the men's college $230 or about 70 per cent has been received by Manager William Cohen to date while favorable reports from those in charge of a similar drive in the women's college indicate that a large proportion of the $260 pledged by them has been collected. Season tickets were distributed for the first time yesterday afternoon and by this morning the entire number out was slightly in excess of one hundred and fifty.

Announcement was made Sunday to the effect that contracts for each of the six home games would probably be completed during the week. These include one game each with Norwich and University of Vermont. A series of eighteen class games to be played in pairs on nine different nights during the winter is being tentatively arranged by the managemennt and will provide six additional contests than have previously been included in the class schedule. The eighteen games will be divided into units of six the first of which is expected to be completed before Christmas holidays.. Another novel feature of the coming season for class games is the provision for regular team practice which has been tentatively put forth by Manager Cohen. Admittance fee for class game nights will be fifteen cents though season tickets for the 'Varsity season will be similarly honored.

Columbia

By E. I. N. S.

Columbia fraternities have organized themselves into a Sport League. Twenty-nine of the Greek letter organizations have already entered their team in a championship basketball struggle. These teams have been divided into six minor leagues. The champions of these will contend for the final honors.

A new project for a wider advertisement of Stevens is found in the proposal to place a copy of The Link of 1921, the Stevens annual, in the library of every high school and Prep school represented here by its Alumni.

BISHOP E. H. HUGHES SPEAKS AT SUNDAY VESPER SERVICE

"Wait On The Lord"—His Text; Is Prominent in Other Walks

Rev. Edwin Holt Hughes, Bishop of the Methodist church, A. B., A. M., D. D., L L. D., of Malden, Mass., was the speaker at the vesper service last Sunday. Bishop Hughes took his text from the twenty-seventh psalm "Wait on the Lord, be of good courage, and He will strengthen thine heart, wait I say, on the Lord." To be truly courageous and not instilled with a spirit of foolish bravado, Bishop Hughes said that behind one there must be a great principle; within a sense of tremor, and beyond a worthy object. In illustration of the first principle he contrasted the personalities of Lafavette and Charles Lee, the one inspired by a spirit of service, and the other only by a desire for personal gain, for courage is always closely related to character. In the second place, it is not courage at all which is felt by the person who has no fear, for only with the full realization of danger comes the power to meet and overcome it bravely. In close relation to this is the third point, that beyond all courageous effort, there must be a worthy achievement in view, since it is worse than useless to risk everything for no purpose merely in a spirit of bravado.

Not only in meeting physical danger, is all this true, but in a moral sense as well, for many times it requires an even higher sort of courage to stand by one's convictions in every day life than to go forth to meet the enemy guns. The greatest test of courage for us right here, is to be able to march under the flag of God as bravely and proudly as we did not long ago under the flag of liberty.

Bishop Hughes is a member of Delta Tau Delta and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities, is an author of some note, and has also been engaged in various other activities. He has been at different times a member of the Indiana State board of Education, Trustee Carnegie Foundation, President of De Pauw University and Chairman of the Committee of one hundred religious activities, Panama Exposition, 1915.

285 PURCHASERS FOR 1922 EDITION OF KALEIDOSCOPE

According to a statement given out by Business Manager, Paul M. Ross, two hundred and eighty-five undergraduates have, by signing papers which have been circulated for this purpose,, pledged themselves to purchase copies of The 1922 Kaleidoscope.

The figures show a distribution of pledges by classes, as follows:

Seniors	30
Juniors	96
Sophomores	56
Freshmen	105
Total	287

The report is encouraging to the board but additional subscriptions will be necessary and further solicitation will be made during the week. It is necessary that those intending to purchase copies of the annual should signify their intention at an early date in order that the staff can estimate the number of copies to be contracted for. The edition will be limited as in former years.

PERSONAL

Miss Mildred Stewart '23 left Friday to spend a few days in her home at Mooers, N. Y.

Miss Edris Thayer '24 entertained her mother over the week-end.

Mrs. Upton visited her daughter, Doris. '24 this week.

L. C Squire '04. of Council Bluffs, Iowa, visited at the Chi Psi Lodge last week while on a business trip east.

Kenneth C. Gorham '18 and Stanley V. Wright '18, both of New York City, are spending several days with their parents in Middlebury. They will return after the Vermont game Saturday.

ST. LAWRENCE BLANKS MIDDLEBURY 10 - 0

Ashley was used on two successive plays, gaining thirteen yards and first down. St. Lawrence was penalized five yards more for offside. Brown missed a good chance to get away in a clear field when he missed a forward pass from the quarter. Ashley and Lobo gained the necessary distance for first down on the next two plays. Another forward failed and then Midd attempted a place kick from the 30 yard line which was unsuccessful. Ashley then punted. Sheard failed to gain around right end but made 7 yards on a play around the opposite end. Atwood made a two yard gain and then Sheard made first down. The period ended on the 35 yard line.

Drop Kick Goes Wide

2nd Quarter: Lobo threw Sheard after a yard gain on the opening play. St. Lawrence fumbled and Brigham fell on the ball for a recovery. Lobo gained a couple of yards on two attempts and then Quackenbush attempted to even up the score by a drop kick from about the 40 yard mark. The kick was wide and St. Lawrence had the ball on the 20 yard line. Sheard failed to gain and St. Lawrence received a 15 yard penalty for holding. The visitors immediately punted out of danger to the 15 yard line. Midd received a ten yard penalty and two plays at the line gave no gain. A pass to Brown failed to give a first down and Ashley kicked. Sheard gained four yards and Midd received another penalty for offside. Sheard broke loose on the next play and a fine tackle by Quackenbush in mid-field was the only thing which prevented a score, as he had a clear field ahead. Atwood made 20 yards on a forward pass and Sheard gained another ten around end. Keppler recovered a fumble and Midd punted. Quackenbush intercepted a pass but failed to gain on the next play. Ashley was thrown for a loss and punted out of bounds at the 30 yard line. Sheard's first attempt at a placement kick failed but Midd was offside anyway, and his next trial was a perfect goal. St. Lawrence kicked off to Ashley and the half was over.

Atwood Makes Second Score

3rd Quarter: Keppler was now acting captain as Mead retired to put Potratz in. Midd kicked off and St. Lawrence gained five yards on the first two plays. Sheard cut loose for a first down and Monyahan got him for the tackle. Atwood failed to gain. St. Lawrence made 14 yards and first down on the following play. One attempt at a long forward failed, but the next one was good. The only Midd back between Atwood and the goal line slipped before he made his tackle and a touchdown resulted. The goal was kicked. Ashley received the kick off and Stockwell was hurt on the play, retiring from the game. MacDonnell made three yards and St. Lawrence received an offside penalty on the succeeding play. Ashley made first down for Midd. Sheard intercepted a pass but failed to gain on the next play. A 15 yard penalty brought the ball to the St. Lawrence five yard line from where it was kicked to mid-field again. Midd gained eight yards, bringing the ball to the 40 yard mark where a fake placement kick let Ashley make 15 yards. St. Lawrence intercepted a forward pass and made first down on the first play. A pass from Sheard to Atwood gave 25 more yards to the visitors. Potratz smeared the next attempt through the line and another pass failed. The next attempt to gain was by the aerial route and St. Lawrence would have had another touchdown except for the fact that they were offside on the play and were called back for the penalty. Sheard gained five yards and then failed in an attempt at a place kick.

4th Quarter: Midd was offside on their first play and Ashley's 25 yard run was wasted. Ashley and Quackenbush each made first downs on the next two plays. A pass failed and Leonard went in at quarter. Midd punted and St. Lawrence returned the kick from their 20 yard line, as Ashley's punt went over the goal line. Midd tried two passes which failed and a line plunge failed to gain anything. Ashley punted and Midd recovered the ball on a fumble. Ashley and MacDonnell made a six yard gain but the ball went to St. Lawrence on downs on their 15 yard line. After an offside penalty, Sheard punted to mid-field. A forward to Brown failed, and Tillinghast intercepted the next pass giving the ball to St. Lawrence again. They did not gain on two trials and punted on the third down. Mac Donnell made five yards, but Leonard and Ashley only made a yard on the next two plays and Ashley punted to Atwood. The game ended on the next play.

ILLUSTRATED PROGRAMS FOR MIDDLEBURY-VERMONT GAME

Illustrated programs, a distinct innovation in local athletics, will be offered for sale by the football management at the Middlebury-Vermont game Saturday on Porter Field. The programs, containing twelve pages of printed matter will also include halftones of the two opposing teams, of Captains Mead of Middlebury and Schmitt of Vermont, and Coaches Brown and Morey. Additionally, lineups of the two teams with previous scores and a complete list of Middlebury songs and cheers will be inclosed.

The programs have been prepared by Manager R. S. Noonan '21, manager of football, and L. R. Bigelow '21, editor of the 1921 Kaleidoscope and will be sold for twenty-five cents a copy. Proceeds from the sale will be devoted to The Campus Athletic Scholarship Fund, originated this year.

FORMER HILLSIDE GIRLS STAGE HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Hillside girls of 1919-1920 entertained Coach and Mrs. Dave Morey and ten members of the opposite sex at a Hallowe'en party in the Delta Delta Delta and Pi Beta Phi sorority rooms Friday evening from seven to ten-thirty. An effective color scheme of orange and black was carried out in tht Pi Beta Phi rooms where dancing and games were enjoyed. The ring and cap dances were novelties of the evening.

In the Delta Delta Delta rooms at a very prettily decorated table which extended the length of the rooms, lunch was served. The singing of favorite Hillside songs was led by James Geddes '21. Toast master Ray Noonan '21 gave a timely toast to the absent members of the Hillside group.

The party was chaperoned by Miss Dutton and Miss Young.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OFFERS 25 FRENCH FELLOWSHIPS

Three Years' Study Possible—Fund A Memorial For War Heroes

The Society for American Field Service Fellowships for French Universities will offer twenty-five fellowships for open competition among graduates of American colleges and other candidates suitably qualified, the fellowships to consist of three payments, the first $200, the second and third installments of 5,000 francs each, for the purpose of encouraging advanced study and research in French Universities. The fellowships are for one year and may be renewable a second year.

The society is endeavoring to raise sufficient money to endow one hundred and twenty-seven fellowships, each one to be named after a man who died in the American Field Service in France. The Field Service was composed largely of American college men who went to France at their own expense and drove ambulances furnished by the Field Service. Sections were composed of about forty-five men, and thirty ambulances, but were attached to units of the French Army. This work was taken up early in 1915, and a large number of men responded before the United States entered the war in 1917. The service won a notable name for itself, and many of its members were decorated by the French government. The American Field Service Fellowships Society in establishing endowments for study and research work in France is serving a double purpose, first that of perpetuating the memory of the men who fell in the service, and second, that of encouraging student relations between French and American institutions of learning. There are now available twenty-five fellowships.

The fellowships will be awarded in a wide range of studies, which may be taken up at any of the following French Universities; Aix-Marseille, Alger, Besancon, Bordeaux, Caen, Clermont-Ferrand, Dijon, Grenoble, Lille, Lyon, Montpellier, Nancy, Poitiers, Rennes, Strasbourg and Toulouse. The courses are also available in the Universities and institutions of higher learning in Paris. A candidate to be eligible must be a citizen of the United States, be between twenty and thirty years of age, must be a graduate of some college of recognized standing, must be of good moral character and intellectual ability, and must have practical ability to use French books, both in general subjects and in their special fields although another set of requisites has been prescribed for candidates who have not attended an institution of higher learning. Particulars may be secured by communicating with Dr. J. L. Kandel, 522 Fifth Ave., New York. The award of fellowships will be made early in 1921 for 1921-22.

It is quite possible that the number of fellowships will be increased shortly. The funds are in charge of a board of trustees among whom are Hon. A. Piatt Andrew, Mr. Elliot C. Bacon, Hon. Myron T. Herrick and Mr. Charles P. Taft

Volley Ball Tourney

The first matches of the volley ball tournament of the freshman girls were played Monday afternoon at four o'clock. The captains of the five teams are Alice Blanchard, Wilma Walsh, Emma Belcher, Margaret Mahoney and Ruth Tuthill. The teams of Emma Belcher and Ruth Tuthill were victorious over those of Margaret Mahoney and Alice Blanchard.

PERSONAL

President John M. Thomas preached Sunday in Troy, N. Y., at the First Presbyterian church and at Emma Willard School. Nathan S. S. Beman, a graduate of Middlebury College with the class of 1807 was pastor of the First Presbyterian church for forty years, commencing in 1823.

Miss Dorothy Douglas '22 spent the week-end in Bristol.

'Varsity Coaches Will Drill Under-Class Teams For Annual Battle

Assurance that the annual Freshman-Sophomore football game would not occur before November 20, the week following the Vermont game, was given out by Coach Dave Morey last week. Intensive practice for both elevens will commence the Monday after the big game under the direction of the two 'Varsity coaches, delayed necessarily by the lack of sufficient equipment for the squads.

Both teams have been indulging in light work-outs several afternoons during each of the last two weeks but as yet have had very little signal drill. T. L. Soistman, recently elected captain of the yearling team, fractured his shoulder a short time ago in 'Varsity practice and will have to watch his team-mates from the side-lines. The sophomore eleven will be captained by I. O. Lacy.

COLLEGE PRESS CLUB IS REORGANIZED

Activities Now Directed By Four Distinct Departments

Simmons '02 and Lee '17 Affiliated—Club Has Twenty-Two Members

Rounding into the second year of its work the College Press Club, organized last fall, has recently completed a reorganization of its activities into four distinct departments of athletics, general college news, home papers and special articles. In placing periodic news in practically every paper in this state, including two dailies in which it it maintaining a regular department of Middlebury notes, and in sending out over thirty special articles to metropolitan dailies the work of the club this year has been particularly successful. In the department of home papers it has given out fifty special articles concerning college honors won by undergraduates from their respective districts.

The club which when organized in 1919 had a membership of six exclusive of Professor W. E. Davison, faculty supervisor, now includes twenty-two representatives of the two colleges. Additionally, several members of the graduate body, notably C. Ridgley Lee '17 of New York and A. A. Simmons '02 of Boston, have become affiliated with the club and are cooperating with it in placing articles in the larger dailies of their respective cities. The college authorities have turned over an office on the second floor of Middle Painter for the use of the club which has been suitably equipped with a typewriter, mimeograph machine and several tables. A telephone, listed under the name of Professor Davison, has been installed, the number being 146-2.

The organization of the club is as follows: Athletics—Klimm '23 (city papers), Carrigan '21 (state papers), Timberman '22 and Biffer '24: College Notes—Owen '23 and Miss Tucker '23 (Burlington Free Press), Eddy '23 and Miss Douglas '22 (Rutland Herald) Miss Littlefield '22 (Middlebury Register); home papers—Spaulding '24 (men), Miss Coolidge '22 (women), Misses D. Taylor and H. Taylor '24; Special Articles—Adams '23 and Corsen '24 (men), Miss Loughrey '23 and Miss Able '23 (women). The magazine section, a division of the latter department, includes Brown '21, Brautigam '22, Corsen and Biffer '24 (men) and Misses Winchester, Crathern, Pratt, Axton and Clapp '22, Thorpe '23, Knight and Foster '24. Lyons '23 is secretary of the club. Membership is open to all students interested in newspaper writing.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR DR. SHELDON

Brooklyn Tech To Honor Former Middlebury Man

Son Gives Physics Teacher's Library To Brooklyn

The memorial service of Dr. Samuel Sheldon, Middlebury 1883 and for many years Professor of Physics at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, will be held in the main auditorium of the Brooklyn Engineering Building on Wednesday evening, November 17th, at 8:30. The presiding officer will be Arthur W. Berresford, president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, vice-president and general manager of the Cutler-Hammer Manufacturing Company, and a member of one of Dr. Sheldon's earliest classes.

Announcement has been made by President F. W. Atkinson of the gift of the entire Sheldon library to the institute by Samuel Sheldon Jr., of this town. The donation, according to the statement, has been accepted and upon its arrival in Brooklyn will be placed in the Mailloux Library. A distinct book-plate in memory of Dr. Sheldon will be affixed to the cover of each book.

Among the many volumes in this collection are a set of the Transactions of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers from volume 4 (1887) to date, a complete set of the Electric Journal from 1904 to date, the Transactions of the International Electric Congress, Sir W. Thomson's "Electrostatics and Magnetism," J. S. Ames' "Constitution of Matter," J. A. Fleming's "Electric Wave Telegraphy," J. H. Jeans' "Electricty and Magnetism," P. G. Nutting's "Applied Optics," "Oliver Lodge's "Electrons," Ostwald's "Solutions," McClurg's "Conduction of Electricity Through Gases" and a number of engineering handbooks.

He has had the distinction of galloping across the goal line with a touchdown more often this season than any other man on the team. He played on the New Bedford (Mass.) Vocational School team last year. Patten of Rutland, Sunderland of St. Albans, and Ed Johnson of Wesleyan, Mass., have also played the left end of the line.

Carroll Murch of Putney and "Al" Harris of Leominster, Mass., are two more solid boys who have given good accounts of themselves in the line.

In the quarterback position, Sullivan, who ran the Goddard team last year, has been doing good work. Although he was kept out of the Norwich game by injuries, he will be back in the line-up for the Middlebury game. Kendricks, who ran the team in the Norwich game, comes from Winooski and has been doing consistent work all season.

"Swede" Johnson, at fullback, has for two years been a tower of strength. Whenever a gain is especially needed, Swede can be depended upon to go. Greig of Spaulding High School has also played fullback on the squad.

At halfback, Chutter, Bellrose, and Brock have been the mainstays. All of them are fast, hard hitting line crackers who make up a strong offense. Scruggs of Winooski, Randall from Brattleboro, and Townsend have given the others a good race for their positions.

ASSOCIATION VOTES PRIZE FOR P-RADE

A prize valued at no more than ten dollars for the individual who, in the opinion of Student Council, offers the most original and best all-around get-up in the Freshman P-Rade Saturday afternoon was unanimously voted at the meeting of the Undergraduate Association last night in McCullough Gymnasium. The attendance was small, there being but scarcely one hundred men present.

The meeting was in charge of Vice-President Charles J. Haugh in the absence of President Darby. The reading of the secretary's minutes constituted the only other transaction of the evening.

Members of the faculty who are interested in debating will be taken into the fraternity later in accordance with the rules of the organization. At the first meeting of the Middlebury Chapter J. H. Noble was elected president and Murray Adams secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Woodhead of St. Lawrence University talked over with the men interested in debating a plan for establishing a tri-cornered debating league, to consist of St. Lawrence University, the University of Vermont and Middlebury College. This plan will be taken up at the next meeting of the Wetherell Debating Club.

Some of the more prominent members of Tau Kappa Alpha are Edward J. Hecker, publisher of Indianapolis, Hon. Hugh T. Miller of Indianapolis, Dr. Guy Potter Benton, former President of the University of Vermont, Herbert R. Hyman, Chairman of the Cole Motor Car Co., and Charles H. Brough, Governor of Arkansas.

How Large is an Atom?

ATOMS are so infinitesimal that to be seen under the most powerful microscope one hundred million must be grouped. The atom used to be the smallest indivisible unit of matter. When the X-Rays and radium were discovered physicists found that they were dealing with smaller things than atoms—with particles they call "electrons."

Atoms are built up of electrons, just as the solar system is built up of sun and planets. Magnify the hydrogen atom, says Sir Oliver Lodge, to the size of a cathedral, and an electron, in comparison, will be no bigger than a bird-shot.

Not much substantial progress can be made in chemical and electrical industries unless the action of electrons is studied. For that reason the chemists and physicists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are as much concerned with the very constitution of matter as they are with the development of new inventions. They use the X-Ray tube as if it were a machine-gun; for by its means electrons are shot at targets in new ways so as to reveal more about the structure of matter.

As the result of such experiments, the X-Ray tube has been greatly improved and the vacuum tube, now so indispensable in radio communication, has been developed into a kind of trigger device for guiding electrons by radio waves.

Years may thus be spent in what seems to be merely a purely "theoretical" investigation. Yet nothing is so practical as a good theory. The whole structure of modern mechanical engineering is reared on Newton's laws of gravitation and motion—theories stated in the form of immutable propositions.

In the past the theories that resulted from purely scientific research usually came from the university laboratories, whereupon the industries applied them. The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company conceive it as part of their task to explore the unknown in the same spirit, even though there may be no immediate commercial goal in view. Sooner or later the world profits by such research in pure science. Wireless communication, for example, was accomplished largely as the result of Herz's brilliant series of purely scientific experiments demonstrating the existence of wireless waves.
